Toward A Destiny Of Excellence

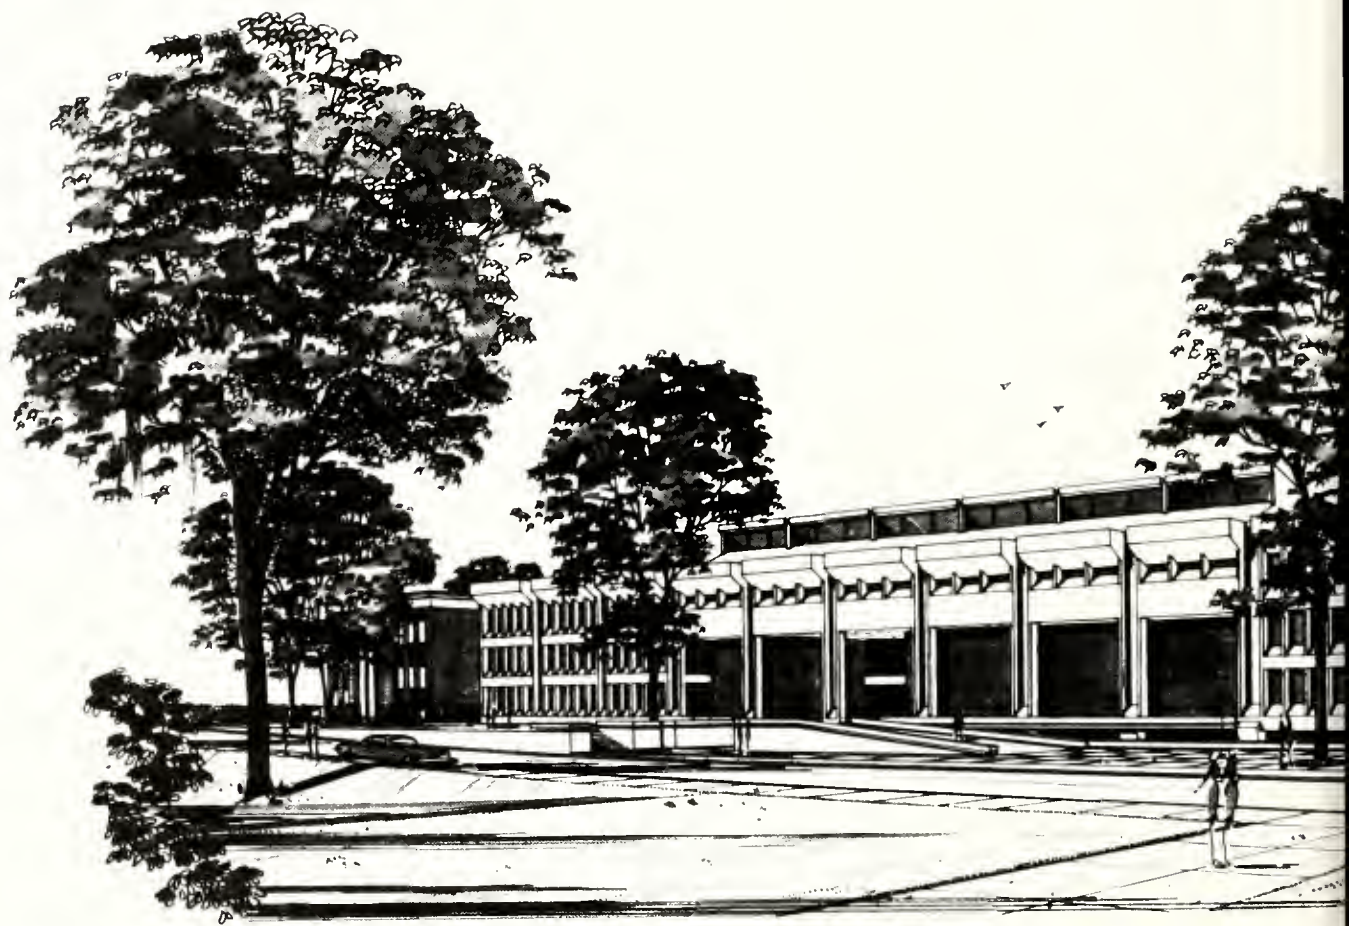

Dedication

For his enthusiastic leadership and guidance to pre-med students and chemistry majors, we proudly dedicate the 1969 Bobashela to Dr. Charles Eugene Cain. Coming to the Millsaps faculty in the summer of 1960, Dr. Cain has since become Chairman of the Chemistry Department and chief Pre-Med Advisor. This school year has seen Dr. Cain's formation of a Pre-Med Advisory Board to aid in evaluations of prospective students for medical schools. Indicative of Dr. Cain's guidance to pre-med students is the fact that one-fifth of last year's freshman class at the University Medical Center was from Millsaps.

Well-known as an avid supporter of the Millsaps Majors, Dr. Cain always cheers wholeheartedly for the winning home team. Aside from school activities, Dr. Cain has been quite successful with his award-winning camellias. During the summer months he also takes out time to make camping trips to different parts of the country. Millsaps is rich in having a professor with such a wide range of interests, as well as sincere interest in the college and its students.

DR. ROSS H. MOORE; Professor of History; B.S., M.S., Millsaps College; A.M., University of Chicago; Ph.D., Duke University.

English, History

In order to become proficient in writing, freshmen learned to cope with weekly themes and the inevitable research paper. After exploring the literature of England, majors in the field concentrated their efforts in Chaucer, Milton, Shakespeare, seventeenth century authors, and American literature. For all students the Junior English Proficiency Examination posed problems of creativity and grammar knowledge in an essay on current events.

From Caesar Augustus through the French Revolution to the Viet Nam War, students of Western Civilization explored the development of the social, political, and religious world. Survey courses of the histories of England, Russia, France, and the United States laid the foundation for further study of nineteenth and twentieth century events. Selected freshmen enrolled in the Heritage Program designed to combine history, literature, religion, and philosophy of mankind. They were selected on the basis of their ACT scores and high school record. The program included daily classes, weekly seminars, films, speakers, and cultural entertainment.

MRS. MADELEINE M. McMULLAN; Assistant Professor of History; A.B., Trinity College; A.M., The Johns Hopkins University; Advanced Graduate Work, The Johns Hopkins School of International Studies.

MRS. SUE T. LUCAS; Instructor of History; A.B., Belhaven College; A.M., Mississippi College.

DR. WILLIAM C. SALLIS; Associate Professor of History; B.S., M.S., Mississippi State University; Ph.D., University of Kentucky.

MR. BILLY BUFKIN; Associate Professor of Spanish; A.B., A.M., Texas Technological College; Advanced Graduate Work, Tulane University, Universidad de Madrid.

MR. CHARLES NEIL; Visiting Professor of French; A.B., Monmouth College; A.M., Columbia University.

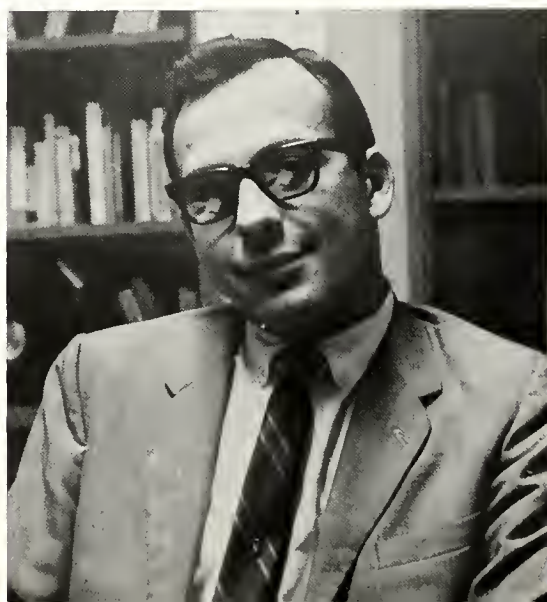

MR. JOHN GUEST; Associate Professor of German; A.B., University of Texas; A.M., Columbia University.

MRS. NELLIE K. HEDERI; Associate Professor of Spanish; A.B., Mississippi State College for Women; A.M., Tulane University.

MR. RICHARD CLAYTON; Instructor of German; A.B., Millsaps College; Graduate Work, Tulane University.

Languages

After establishing a firm basis in grammar and through oral drill and language lab, students of French, German, and Spanish entered classes in conversation and literature. The Junior Year Abroad Program afforded interested students the practice and experience gained only in the country itself.

Classical languages of Greek and Latin offered introductory and advanced instruction. Our heritage and culture were traced in courses in literature, mythology, and civilization.

MISS ELIZABETH CRAIG; Emerita Professor of French; A.B., Barnard College, Columbia University; A.M., Columbia University; Diplome de la Sorbonne, Ecole de preparation des professeurs de francais a l'etranger, Faculte des Lettres, Universite de Paris; Advanced Graduate Work, Columbia University; Palmes Academiques.

DR. GEORGE R. STEPHENSON, A.B., Millsaps College; B.D., University of the South; LL.D. (Honorary) Mississippi College.

MR. HILLIARD E. SANDERS, JR.; Instructor of French; B.A., M.A., Louisiana State University; Diplome de cours de civilisation francaise, Sorbonne (Paris).

MRS. RITA WILLIAMSON; Instructor of Spanish; A.B., Millsaps College; Graduate Work, University of Southern Mississippi.

MRS. MAGNOLIA COULET; Associate Professor of Latin and German; A.B., Millsaps College; B.M., Belhaven College; M.A., University of Pennsylvania (Latin); M.A., University of Mississippi (German).

DR. HAROLD JACOBY; Visiting Professor of Sociology; A.B., College of the Pacific; A.M., Northwestern University; Ph.D., University of Pennsylvania.

MRS. FRANCES H. COKER; Instructor of Sociology; A.B., Millsaps College; M.S.T., Illinois Institute of Technology.

Psychology, Sociology

DR. RUSSELL LEVANWAY; Professor of Psychology; A.B., University of Miami; M.S., Ph.D., Syracuse University.

Observations of behavior were presented to students of psychology in surveys of learning, maturation, emotions, and personality. Further research was done in the fields of statistics and tests and measurements in order to understand abnormal behavior and the consequences of prolonged anxiety in neurosis and psychosis.

Problems of society and human group relationships were tackled in sociology. Majors pursued studies of marriage, American communities, social work, and criminology. Concepts of physical, cultural, and social origins of mankind were offered in a variety of anthropology courses.

MR. IRVIN PERLINE; Instructor of Psychology; B.S., Arizona State; A.M., University of Arizona.

MR. HOWARD BAVENDER; Assistant Professor of Political Science; A.B., College of Idaho; A.M., University of Wisconsin; Post Graduate Work, University of Texas, University of Massachusetts.

DR. RICHARD BALTZ; Associate Professor of Economics and Business Administration; B.B.A., M.S., Baylor University; Ph.D., University of Arkansas.

Economics, Political Science

Macroeconomic theory, industrial organization, marketing, and public finance stimulated students preparing a career in business or government. Concepts and problems of accounting were offered by the Economics Department in courses from cost accounting to auditing and tax accounting.

With emphasis upon the American political system, students of political science pursued courses in policies of state and national government, courts and the Constitution, and international relations. In co-operation with the American University, a program of independent study was offered for a semester in Washington, D. C. Before the general election in November, the department sponsored a mock election which President Nixon carried.

MR. SAMUEL NICHOLAS; Assistant Professor of Economics and Business Administration; B.B.A., M.B.A., University of Mississippi; L.L.B., Jackson School of Law.

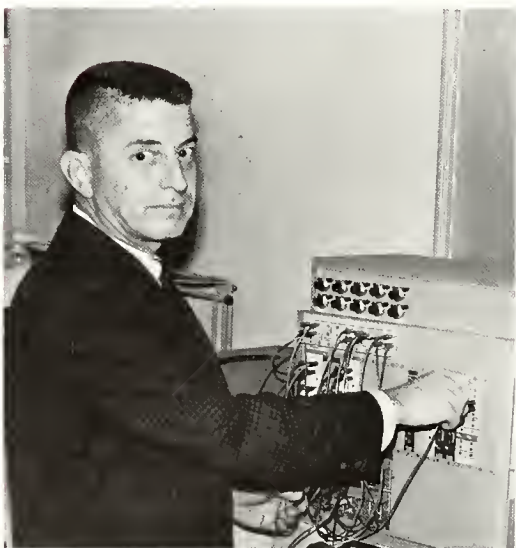

MR. JOHN ADAMS; Assistant Professor of Political Science; A.B., Rice University; L.L.B., University of Texas.

MR. HERMAN McKENZIE; Assistant Professor of Mathematics; B.S., Millsaps College; M.Ed., M.S., University of Mississippi.

MRS. MARY P. ROBINSON; Instructor of Mathematics; B.S., George Peabody College.

DR. SAMUEL KNOX; B. E. Mitchell Professor of Mathematics; A.B., A.M., University of Mississippi; Ph.D., Virginia Polytechnic Institute.

MRS. LUCY H. BURNSIDE; Instructor of Mathematics; A.B., Millsaps College; A.M., Vanderbilt University.

Mathematics

With a foundation in functions, logarithms, and co-ordinate systems in the plane and in space, students of mathematics explored notions of limits, continuity, differentiation, and integration of functions. A course in computers introduced students to data processing, flow charts, and problems in programming information. Further study was done by majors in abstract algebra, probability, and differential equations.

MR. ARNOLD RITCHIE; Associate Professor of Mathematics; B.S., Northeastern State College of Oklahoma; M.S., Oklahoma State University; Advanced Graduate Work, University of Tennessee.

Geology, Physics

Crust formation, minerals, and layers of the earth intrigued geology students to investigate natural phenomena. Courses covered physical, historical, structural, and economical features of geology, mineralogy, and paleontology. The department also offered a summer research laboratory on the Gulf Coastal Plain.

Work, heat, electricity, and light challenged students of physics. Complicated problems involving the use of the slide rule and variations of the frequency and amplitude of sine functions created an understanding of force, mass, and energy.

MR. DONALD FAULKNER; Instructor of Physics; B.S., Millsaps College; M.S., University of Rochester.

MR. WENDELL JOHNSON; Associate Professor of Geology; B.S., M.S., Kansas State University; Advanced Graduate Work, Missouri School of Mines, University of Missouri.

DR. RICHARD PRIDDY; Professor of Geology; B.S., Ohio Northern University; A.M., Ph.D., Ohio State University.

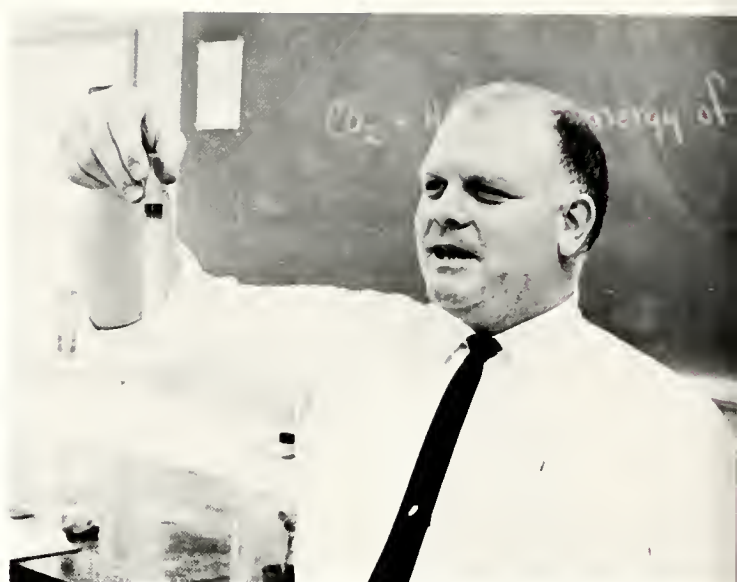

MR. CHARLES GALLOWAY; Associate Professor of Physics; B.S., Millsaps College; A.M., Advanced Graduate Work, Duke University.

DR. JESSE SNOWDEN; Associate Professor of Geology; B.S., Millsaps College; A.M., Ph.D., University of Missouri.

DR. JAMES C. PERRY; Professor of Biology; A.B., A.M., St. Louis University; Ph.D., University of Cincinnati.

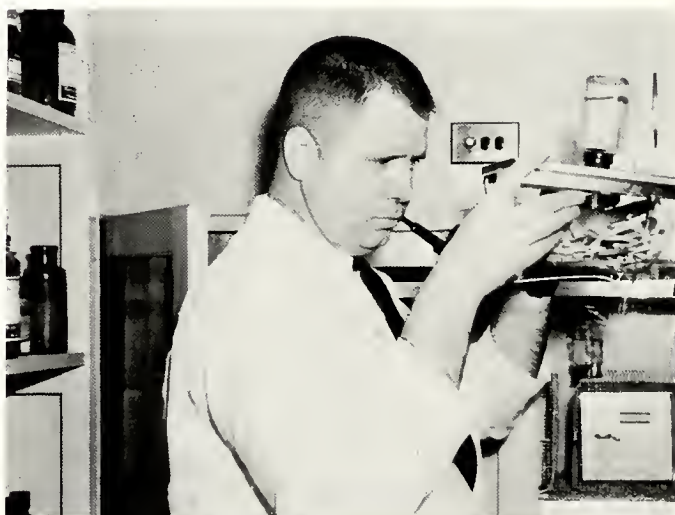

MR. RONDAL E. BELL; Associate Professor of Biology; A.B., William Jewell College; M.S., University of New Mexico.

Biology

Presenting the basic principles underlying life functions and correlating them with higher animal processes, the biology students became increasingly aware of their living environments. With zoology, comparative anatomy, embryology, and physiology, students viewed animal and plant life now inhabiting the earth. In addition, they received an understanding of natural laws governing birth, growth and development, habitat, metabolism, and heredity. Majors in biology were offered opportunities in research, special problems, and study of life in the field.

MR. ROBERT B. NEVINS; Professor of Biology; A.B., Washington University; M.S., University of Texas.

DR. JAMES P. McKEOWN; Assistant Professor of Biology; B.S., University of the South; M.S., University of Mississippi; Ph.D., Mississippi State University.

Chemistry

From Philippus Aurelius Theophrastus Bompast von Hohenheir to J. Motley Moorehead, whether in search of the "elixir of life" or the "philosopher's stone," Millsaps chemistry students came to realize the significance and importance of chemistry in the world of today. Challenging courses in advanced chemistry, including quantitative analysis, organic, biochemistry, and physical chemistry, combined theory and laboratory application into a proper background for professional and graduate study.

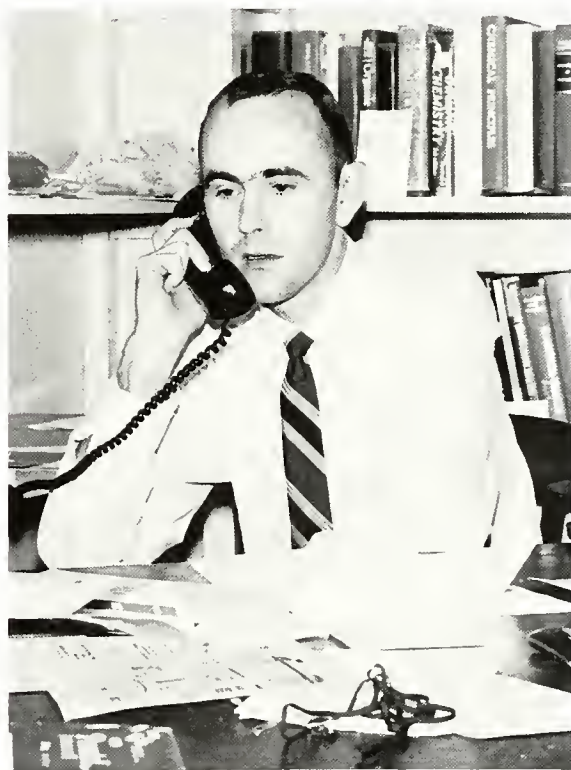

DR. ALLEN D. BISHOP; Assistant Professor of Chemistry; B.S., Millsaps College; M.S., Louisiana State University; Ph.D., University of Houston.

MRS. ANNA L. EZELL; Instructor of Chemistry; B.S., Mississippi College; M.S., Florida State University.

DR. CHARLES E. CAIN; Professor of Chemistry; B.S., University of North Carolina; A.M., Ph.D., Duke University.

MR. GEORGE A. EZELL; Assistant Professor of Chemistry; B.S., Mississippi College; M.S., Florida State University; Ph.D. candidate, University of Mississippi Medical Center.

Philosophy, Religion

Valid reasoning, ethics, esthetics, and the nature of man challenged the minds of students of philosophy. Developing an appreciative understanding of life involved a critical study of the philosophies of religion, science, and the Orient.

Stories of the Old and New Testament were emphasized in the required religion courses. Specialization in the teachings of Jesus, the prophets, and the life of Paul broadened the background for majors. Directed study in the realm of the organization of the church prepared those interested in the ministry or religious education.

DR. LEE REIFF; Associate Professor of Religion; A.B., B.D., Southern Methodist University; A.M., Ph.D., Yale University.

MR. MICHAEL MITIAS; Instructor of Philosophy; A.B., Union College; Graduate Work, University of Missouri, University of Waterloo.

MR. ROBERT ANDING; Assistant Professor of Religion; A.B., Millsaps College; A.M., Mississippi College; B.D., Emory University.

DR. ROBERT BERGMARK; Professor of Philosophy; A.B., Emory University; S.T.B., Ph.D., Boston University.

DR. THOMAS LEWIS; Associate Professor of Religion; A.B., Millsaps College; B.D., Southern Methodist University; Ph.D., Drew University.

MR. JONATHAN SWEAT; Associate Professor of Music; B.S., M.S., The Julliard School of Music; Advanced Graduate Work, Columbia University, University of Michigan.

MR. DONALD KILMER; Assistant Professor of Music; B.M., M.M., Indiana University; Advanced Graduate Work, University of Kansas, University of Illinois.

Music, Art

Harmony, modulation of chords, scales, and sight-singing enriched the creative abilities of music students. Varied talents were developed in courses of counterpoint, composition, choral conducting, and orchestration. Recitals in voice, piano, and organ were given by both students and faculty.

Amid the smell of turpentine and oil, novices and experienced painters struggled with their creations. Members of the design class constructed collages from cut and torn paper. Trips to local galleries and shows exposed students to a variety of techniques. A course in art history explored artists' works through a series of slides.

MR. LELAND BYLER; Professor of Music; A.B., Goshen College; M.M., Northwestern University.

MR. WILLIAM ROWELL; Assistant Professor of Art; B.F.A., Memphis Academy of Arts; M.F.A., University of Mississippi.

MR. MCCARRELL AYERS; Instructor of Music; B.S., University of Rochester; M.M., Indiana University.

MR. FRANCIS POLANSKI; Instructor of Music; B.M., University of Rochester; M.M., University of Michigan.

MR. CHARLES JENSEN; Instructor of Music; B.M.E., Bethany College; M.M., Indiana University.

DR. R. EDGAR MOORE; Professor of Education; A.B., Birmingham Southern College; M.A., University of Alabama; Ed.D., George Peabody College.

MR. LANCE GOSS; Associate Professor of Speech; A.B., Millsaps College; A.M., Advanced Graduate Work, Northwestern University.

MRS. MYRTIS F. MEADERS; Associate Professor of Education; B.S., Millsaps College; M.Ed., Mississippi College.

MR. ORVEL E. HOOKER; Assistant Professor of Speech; B.A., Ouachita Baptist University; S.T.B., S.T.M., Temple University.

MISS ALINE RICHARDSON; Instructor of Education; B.S., University of Alabama; M.Ed., Mississippi State University.

Education, Speech, Physical Education

Training for a career in professional education exposed students to psychological handling of children and adolescents and methods of instruction. Elementary education majors designed units for social studies, science, language arts, and music. Principles of secondary education included the problems of modern high schools and coping with them through guidance counseling. Directed observation and student teaching were required for certification.

Fundamentals of public speaking and oral reading emphasized correct breathing, enunciation, and tonal qualities of the voice. An introduction to the theatre and interpretation of drama were required of those interested in directing, lighting, and stage management.

The Physical Education Department offered instruction in golf, tennis, and bowling. Intramural games afforded students with the opportunity for stiff competition and the development of group loyalty.

DR. JAMES A. MONTGOMERY; Chairman, Department of Physical Education and Athletics; A.B., Birmingham Southern College; M.A., Ed.D., George Peabody College.

MR. THOMAS L. RANAGER; Instructor of Physical Education; Assistant Football Coach; B.S., Mississippi State University.

MISS MARY ANN EDGE; Director of Physical Education for Women; B.S., M.S., University of Mississippi.

MR. J. HARPER DAVIS; Assistant Professor of Physical Education; Head Football Coach; B.S., M.Ed., Mississippi State University; Advanced Graduate Work, Mississippi State University.

Spirited Sixteen

Lead Excited Majors

One thing about those cheerleaders—there are a lot of them and they have a great time! From the pep rally and bonfire through to the kickoff and final countdown, the peppy squad never let the enthusiasm die down.

Their season began in August with a week-long cheerleading camp at Hattiesburg, Mississippi. During the year the six upperclass girls traveled to Sewanee, Georgetown, Randolph-Macon, and Maryville to support the Majors, covering over five-thousand miles in all. These ventures were an exciting “first,” though the girls claim they were forced to beg, borrow, and steal to pay for them!

Once over lightly.

One never ceases to wonder where the next pep rally will be.

Anything for the fraternity!

Floats?—Nevermore!

'68 Homecoming Blends New and Old

In a momentous break with custom, Millsaps did away with homecoming floats this year and instigated a novel substitute—a carnival. Vying with each other for top prize, campus groups spent weeks erecting elaborate and ornate displays complete with a dime a piece, with the proceeds going to the cheerleaders.

Game-time remained traditional; returning alums were scattered over the stands and girls wore their dates' fraternity letters on homecoming mums. The climax was the halftime presentation of Homecoming Queen Bee Bettcher and members of the court Cindy Brunson, Pat Murphy, Diane McLemore, and Vicki Ozborn.

The beat of the psychedelic band at the Knights of Columbus Lodge carried the festivities to 12:00, bringing a swinging end to Homecoming '68.

Greeks Swing In Week-long Frolic

Kicking off a week of festivities for members of the eight Greek organizations on campus, representatives from each group met with the deans for a "conference and dessert" to discuss the problems and contributions of the Millsaps fraternities and sororities. Skit-night was as hilarious and uninhibited as usual, with each fraternity and sorority contributing to the theme of "Fractured Fairy Tales." Naomi Tattis and Chip Ford reigned as Greek God and Goddess, and Dr. Ross Moore began his second year as Outstanding Faculty Member. Next on the agenda were the LXA Field Day and the "Games of Greece"—the undisputed highlight involved four brave girls and an uncooperative greased pig! As evidence of the underlying sense of purpose of the Greek system, the week was climaxed by an all-day roadblock to collect for the Heart Fund. Stationed at one of Jackson's busiest intersections, the enthusiastic Greeks exceeded their goal of $1200. With plenty of energy left, everyone headed for Shady Oaks Country Club and danced 'til 12:30 to the sounds of the Tyn Times and the Mid-South Revue.

"...but the library is leaning into the hole!"

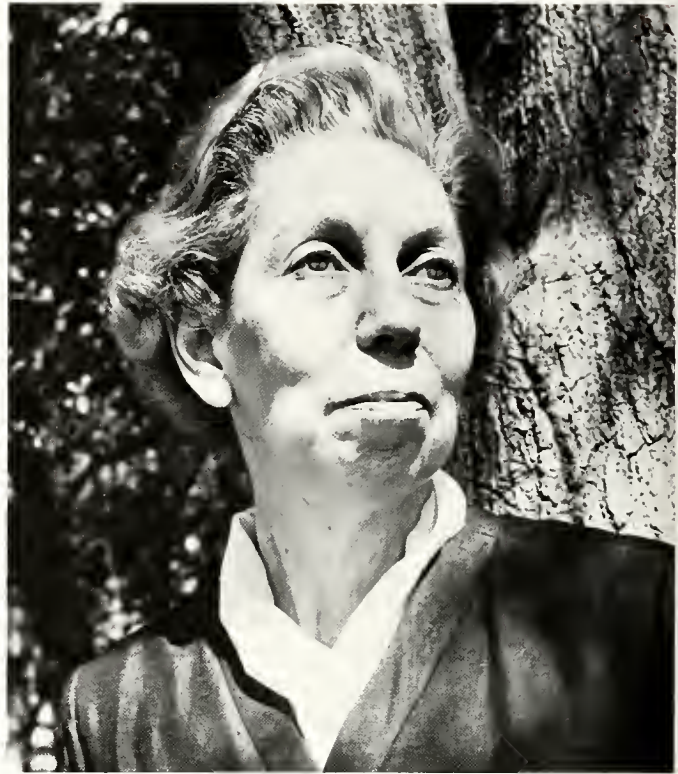

It's so easy, and it's so greasy—right?!

Millsaps begins "Arts and Lectures"

With the advent of the Millsaps Arts and Lecture Series came a wide and distinguished variety of speakers and performers to the campus: Miss Eudora Welty lectured on Jane Austen and gave a delightful reading from her newest story; the New Orleans Symphony, with the Millsaps Singers, were featured in concert at the city auditorium; and Philip Burton entertained students and guests with dramatizations from Shakespeare and some hilarious selections from "Comedy Through the Ages." David Brinkley's lecture closed a most successful season. Convocations were just as diversified—Bishop H. Ellis Finger delivered an address at the formal opening of the school year on October 11, as did Rabbi Julian Feibelman at Founder's Day ceremonies. For anyone unacquainted with sitar, Ashish Kahn's performance was a unique experience.

Scholars Survey

New World Developments

This was the year of politics—campus television sets spouted election returns until the wee hours of the morning, as a bleary-eyed Millsaps watched Richard Nixon become the new leader of the nation. Apollo-8 demanded attention and prompted serious reflection on such lofty ideas as man and nature and God—the Pueblo and Vietnam burst the bubble and pulled everyone back to earth, with doubts that an oblong peace table would accomplish any more than a square one. Students watched the riots and demonstrations of their contemporaries here and abroad, and contemplated whether conservatism or apathy kept Millsaps from joining the fray.

Millsaps Players

Score With Funny Thing

Mr. Lance Goss, director of the Millsaps Players, opened the forty-fifth season of the Company with the tremendous hit show, A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum. Cliff Dowell as Pseudolus and Faser Hardin as Hysterium set the frantic pace for the hilarious action, Mary Craft and Bill Hudson comically portrayed the innocent, young lovers while Peggy Lutz and William Young spiced the plot with their superlative characterizations of the domineering wife Domina and the impotent husband Senex. The entire cast produced one of the funniest and most successful shows in the history of the Players. As the opening for the newly organized Millsaps Art and Lecture Series, Funny Thing set a high precedent for forthcoming presentations.

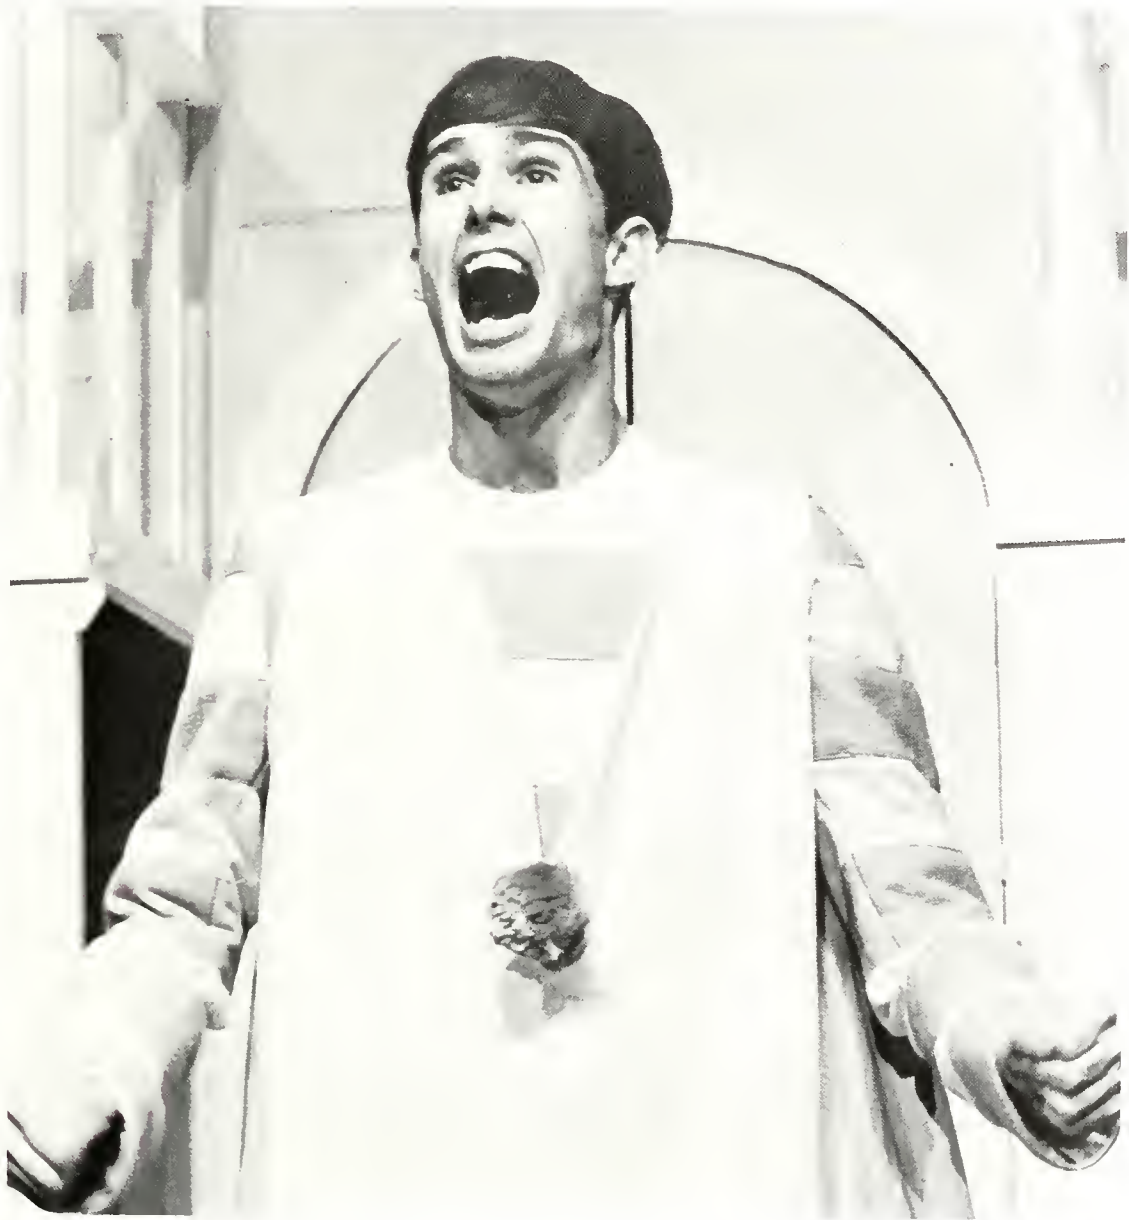

Victims of uproarious circumstances.

Annie, the accomodating courtesan.

What is Pseudolus pleading for now—mercy, freedom, or applause?

Hysterium is hysterical!

Players

Perform in the Round

"The Lion in Winter," second production of the season for the expanding theater department, was presented by the Players in Galloway Arena Theatre. Members of Alpha Psi Omega, National Honorary Dramatics Fraternity, headed the cast: Margaret Atkinson as Eleanor of Aquitaine and Barry McGehee as Henry II brilliantly portrayed the character and passions of their demanding roles. Claire Crofford, Eddie Thompson, Michael Kinney, Ronnie Isbell, and Ray Wolter offered essential support for the James Goldman comedy.

The next show, "Tiger at the Gates," presented during the 1969 spring semester was produced at the request of the program coordinators for the Millsaps Art and Lecture Series.

Richard and Philip offer a toast to their political ties.

Henry II brings together Alice and Richard, betrothed since the age of three.

Mother and son share anxieties of mounting unrest among the family.

Cathy Schroeder, James McGabey, and Bill Hudson look on as Clif Dowell reluctantly pays Eddie Thompson, the Rainmaker, for his bogus services.

The Rainmaker, a traveling salesman, wins the farmer's daughter's favor with his smooth ways.

Summer Workshop Extends Dramatic Program

For the first time at Millsaps a summer workshop was held for students interested in dramatics. During the 1968 summer session, lasting ten weeks, more than forty members of the college community participated in producing a romantic comedy, "The Rainmaker," and a musical comedy, "South Pacific." New and old Players worked effectively in all phases of production, learning and teaching together under the direction of Mr. Lance Goss. All scenery, properties, and costumes were ingeniously made, provided, and constructed by the non-professional production staff. Because of the tremendous success of both shows, the summer workshop is to be continued as an integral part of the drama program.

Features

Master Major

David Martin

David Martin of Columbus served as president of several Millsaps organizations: Omicron Delta Kappa men's leadership honorary Kappa Alpha Order; his senior class; and the M-Club. David's experiences in leadership also include: vice-president of Kappa Alpha and his sophomore class and secretary-treasurer of the IFC and the M-Club. David was a member of the Senate and chairman of the Student Union Board. David's popularity on campus was evidenced by his being chosen a favorite, and his service to the Greek system resulted in his being tapped into Gamma Gamma. He was a dorm manager and a member of the Ford Foundation Drive and the football team.

Major's Lady

Esther Marett

Esther Marett, a Kappa Delta from Batesville, should be an expert at writing minutes. While at Millsaps she has served as secretary of the Student Executive Board and Kappa Delta Sorority. Esther was model pledge and has been chosen a campus favorite. Her activities also extended into the area of sports where her various abilities earned her a place in the Majorette Club. As an orientation counselor and high school day guide, Esther showed new and prospective students the campus she has served.

Naomi Tattis

Most Beautiful

In a campus-wide election Miss Naomi Tattis was selected as Most Beautiful at Millsaps College. A campus Favorite and 1967 Homecoming Queen, Naomi is a member of the Concert Choir and serves as personnel chairman for Chi Omega Fraternity. This summer, "Na" will tour Europe with the Troubadours for the United Service Organization.

Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities

A Dean's List student and participant in the Honors Program, Charles K. Clark has been active in all areas of campus life. He was selected to ODK and was a member of the Millsaps debate team. Charles, a history major, was a delegate to the Mississippi Youth Congress and took part in the Intensive Summer Opportunity Program at the University of Michigan. He was parliamentarian of the Student Senate and director of independent activities on campus. Charles held offices in the history club, Deutscher Verein, and was a member of the pre-law club and Schiller Gesellschaft.

The only junior in Who's Who this year, Clint Cavett will be at the University of Mississippi Medical Center next year. Clint was co-editor of the 1969 Bobashela. He was transfer-student chairman for this year's Orientation and was financial chairman for the Miss Millsaps Pageant. He was treasurer of Kappa Alpha Order and a dormitory manager. Clint has been tapped into ODK, Alpha Epsilon Delta, Chi Chi Chi, and Beta Beta Beta. He was a member of IFC.

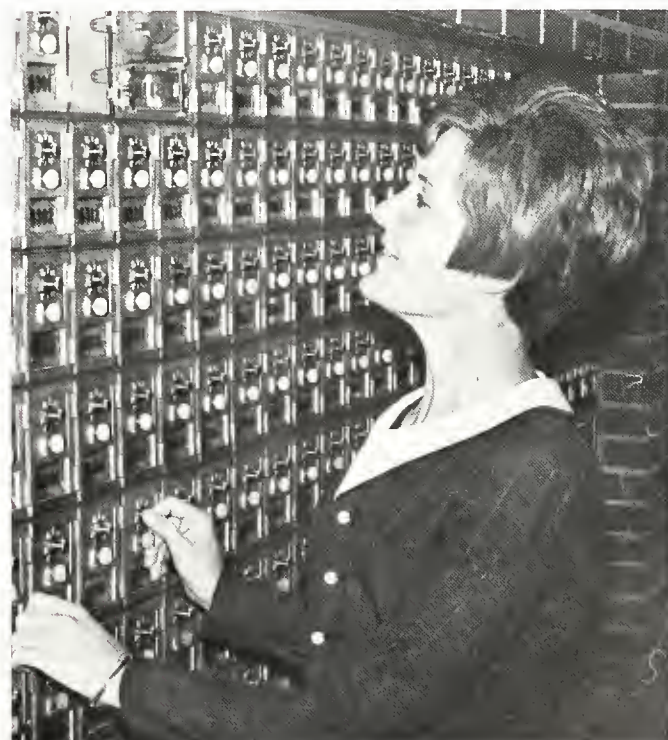

In addition to serving Chi Omega as president and secretary, Cheryl Barrett Converse has been active in campus affairs. She was Greek Goddess last year as well as being selected one of the top twenty beauties on campus. Her editorial talents were shown in her work as student life editor of the Bobashela and as feature editor of the Purple and White. She was a departmental assistant. Cheryl was chosen by her classmates as one of the ten best-dressed coeds on campus.

Muriel Bradshaw has held many offices at Millsaps including vice-president of her senior class. She was president of Kappa Delta Epsilon, treasurer of the Christian Council, president of the Majorette Club, and secretary-treasurer of the WSGA. Muriel held the office of corresponding secretary of Phi Mu and was the recipient of her sorority's Outstanding Junior Award. Muriel was a member of Gamma Gamma and has served as president and secretary-treasurer of the YWCA and as activities editor of the Bobashela.

Adrienne Doss Garrett, one of Millsap's ten best-dressed coeds, was editor of the 1968 Bobashela. Her journalistic talents were seen also in her efforts as news editor of the Purple and White. Adrienne served Chi Omega as freshman class officer. Last year she was selected to be in the top ten in the Miss Millsaps Pageant. During the summer of 1968, she attended the University of Mississippi Summer Semester abroad in France.

Avidly interested in the sciences, Wayne Babin served as president of AED, secretary-treasurer of Beta Beta Beta, and was a member of Theta Nu Sigma. A Dean's List student, Wayne was in the Honors Program in biology and has done independent research in that field. A member of Lambda Chi Alpha, Wayne was scholarship chairman and has received the Scholarship Key. He was also on the board of directors of Circle K, treasurer of Deutscher Verein, and has worked in the Ford Foundation Drive.

Mary Ann McDonald Swenson, a religion major, was a talented member of the Millsaps Players. Mary Ann, who did not limit her activities to the stage, was twice selected the most valuable debater on the Millsaps team. She served as president of Pi Kappa Delta and as secretary of Alpha Psi Omega. This petite Kappa Delta was a Dean's List student, a member of Sigma Lambda, a student senator for two years, and a member of the Concert Choir. She also served on the staffs of the Purple and White and the Bobashela.

Irene Cajoleas, who was elected a senator-at-large for three years, was active in Senate affairs and served as a delegate to MIC. Irene served the Greek system as Kappa Delta's rush chairman and representative to Panhellenic, as Greek Week co-chairman, and as a member of Gamma Gamma. This campus beauty and Dean's List student was also a member of the WSGA, the Student Union board, and the staffs of the Purple and White and Bobashela. As an elementary education major, Irene served as historian of Kappa Delta Epsilon.

After receiving a National Methodist Scholarship, Jimmy Godbold proved his scholastic ability at Millsaps: he was awarded the freshman Mathematics Award, the A. G. Sanders' Award in intermediate French, and the beginning German Award. Jimmy was president of the scholastic honorary Eta Sigma, treasurer of Theta Nu Sigma, and a member of Sigma Delta Pi and Circle K. Jimmy served as High Gamma of Lambda Chi Alpha Fraternity. As a mathematics major, Jimmy participated in the Honors Program.

Carl Bush, a political science major, was especially active in campus politics. He was president of the junior class, and as a senator-at-large received the Most Outstanding Senator Award. Carl served Pi Kappa Alpha Fraternity as president, vice-president, and secretary. He was a member of Gamma Gamma, Circle K, and the Interfraternity Council, and vice-president of Omicron Delta Kappa. Although he was assistant editor of the Purple and White and greek editor of the Bobashela, Carl found time to be a Dean's List student.

Gerald Harper was awarded a summer research grant in the field of chemistry by the National Science Foundation. The chemistry department on the Millsaps campus was greatly aided by Gerald's talents as a laboratory assistant. He was a member of the Deutscherverein, Circle K, and the Student Senate. Not only was Gerald on the Dean's List, but he was also tapped into several honoraries.

Diane McLemore Martin has served Millsaps in many areas and offices: as Kappa Delta President and pledge trainer, as secretary of her class for four years, as a student senator for four years and a representative to MIC, as Greek Week co-chairman, as a member of the Orientation and Ford Foundation Drive steering committees, as vice-president of Sigma Delta Pi, and as president of Gamma Gamma. Her scholarship earned her a place on the Dean's List. Diane was honored by her classmates who chose her a beauty, campus favorite, a member of the homecoming court, as well as by the Kappa Alphas as 1968 Rose.

Alice Wofford, who served her sorority Phi Mu as vice-president for two years, was president of Sigma Lambda, the women's leadership honorary. Alice was also a member of the greek honorary Gamma Gamma. Holding the office of president of Sanders Hall her sophomore year placed Alice on the Executive Board of the WSGA. Alice was an education major and served as secretary of Kappa Delta Epsilon. This Dean's List Student was also a member of the Lambda Chi Alpha Crescent Court.

Taking the minutes has become the college pasttime of Esther Marett, who has served this year as secretary of the SEB and of Kappa Delta Sorority. Esther, named a campus beauty, was selected as model pledge of Kappa Delta. She also found time among her many activities to act as Orientation counselor and to work on the Purple and White staff.

Hugh Gamble, a pre-med major from Greenville, served as president of the SEB. Hugh held the position of rush chairman of Kappa Sigma Fraternity for two years and also served as secretary this year. Hugh was responsible for acquainting freshmen with Millsaps when he headed Orientation, serving as co-chairman. Active in student publications, Hugh was the Greek editor of the 1968 Bobashela.

Tapped into Sigma Lambda and Gamma Gamma this year, Ann Martin began her senior year in grand style. A Dean's List student, Ann served Chi Omega as vice-president and treasurer. She was a member of the Orientation steering committee as well as the Ford Foundation steering committee. Ann has been a member of the Purple and White staff and was senior class editor of this year's Bobashela. Ann was also a member of Schiller Gesellschaft. Last year she served as president of Bacot dormitory and was a member of the WSGA executive board.

David Martin spent a busy four years at Millsaps. In 1968 he was Greek god. David, a member of Kappa Alpha Order, served his fraternity as president, vice-president, and pledge trainer. A four-year letterman in football, David was at the helm of the M Club. David has been tapped into ODK and Gamma Gamma, and into the new history honorary. He was also president of his senior class, vice-president of his sophomore class, and secretary of the IFC.

Actively engaged in student government at Millsaps was Lynn Clark. Lynn has been a member of the Student Senate for four years and served as secretary-treasurer of Bacot Hall for two years before being elected president of the WSGA. Lynn has served on the Orientation steering committee, the Ford Foundation Student Drive committee, and the Publications Board. Lynn was news editor of the Purple and White and worked on the Bo-bashela staff. Lynn was also a Dean's List student and a member of the Chapel Choir and the YWCA.

A Dean's and President's List student, Robbie Lloyd also accumulated ten trophies for the debate team. Robbie was secretary and rush chairman of Chi Omega and received the freshman-scholarship and the most outstanding freshman awards. She was tapped into Sigma Lambda, Alpha Psi Omega, and Pi Kappa Delta—serving the last two as vice-president and president, respectively. As a member of the Players, Robbie showed her abilities on stage as an actor and off stage as Publicity Director. She was also director of the 1967 Miss Millsaps Pageant, the Beauty Review, and the Freshman Talent Show.

Senators Bessie Jordan and Jeanne Middleton take note of current Senate business.

Senate

Composed of a representative cross-section of the Millsaps student body, the Student Senate met weekly to discuss problems and seek their solutions. This year the student government association sought to bring special benefits to the Millsaps student. In cooperation with the student governments of Belhaven, Mississippi College, and Jackson State, the Jackson Metropolitan Intercollegiate Council was created with the main purposes being to provide for all college students in the Jackson area a student discount service through local retail merchants, to provide big name entertainment at low costs, and to promote any other endeavor which is mutually beneficial to the various colleges. The Millsaps Senate also worked toward the organization of a student judicial system, and the provision of weekly entertainment with a Coffee House atmosphere.

Women's Student Government Association

Freshmen and transfers were greeted warmly by the W.S.G.A., first by an orientation session on women's rules, and then, in a lighter vein, by a fashion show featuring outfits from the Balcony of Jackson. Composed of the executive board and floor chairmen from the girl's dorms, W.S.G.A. held general meetings once a month, with executive board meetings every week. Members hashed over interpretations of rules and suggestions of things to be done and changes to be made—later hours for girls and the senior honor code were two alterations put into effect this year. An open forum gave the campus an opportunity to air any complaints about rules, maintenance of these rules, and the like. At Christmas the W.S.G.A. forgot about rules and sponsored a trim-the-tree party-with food-in the lobby of the student union.

Past president Lynn Clark listens to discussions as former secretary Helen Lehmann records minutes.

Bobashela

With continuous cries for more pictures and more hours in the day, the Bobashela staff struggled with layouts and copy. Selling advertising, cropping pictures, drawing layouts, and typing copy occupied the time of staff members as they worked toward the completion of the yearbook and the excitement of meeting those overwhelming deadlines.

Purple and White

For many volunteer workers, long afternoons stretched into long nights as the Purple and White staff laid out pages and corrected proofs. Each week the paper rolled off the presses to provide the student body with a chronicle of events. The publication also served as a forum for student and faculty opinions on campus issues.

Stylus

This year Stylus offered a broad study of the background to Millsaps thought. The anthology contained short stories, poetry, and essays by various student writers whose works dealt with topics ranging from a death in the Delta to the falsification of religion. Although the fall issue of Stylus consisted entirely of literary works, Millsaps student artists added much to the spring issue by illustrating the magazine.

Stylus Editor Jim Tohill, Assistant Editor Cheryl Thompson, and Business Manager Tom Gerald dream of numerous contributions—creative and monetary.

The pep band heralds another Millsaps touchdown.

"That was the cannon, not the band, Mr. Jensen."

Russell Ingram stares intently at the action on the field.

Pep Band

Anyone who is interested and who can play an instrument is cordially invited to join the Millsaps band. It is mostly for fun, but there is some profit, too. Although their main job was to support the Majors at pep rallies and to bolster spirit at football games, several of the group went to various churches to accompany the choral music for Sunday services. The band also played a jazz mass with the Chapel Choir. Future goals include being able to accompany singing groups for on-campus performances.

Concert Choir

If the Concert Choir minded making it to noon rehearsals while everyone else ate lunch, they never showed it. Whenever there was a need for choral music on campus, they were always there. Choir members frolicked at Camp Wesley Pines before school began for "practice, practice, practice" to enlarge their repertoire. The Christmas program, an annual presentation in cooperation with the Chapel Choir, was Handel's "Messiah." The outstanding event of the year was an appearance with the New Orleans Symphony Orchestra at the city auditorium under the auspices of the Millsaps Arts and Lecture Series. Poulenc's "Gloria" was a highlight of the evening. Spring choir tour took the Singers to Denver, Colorado.

Troubadours

A year's resumé of the activities of the Troubadours is an awesome thing—though their performing engagements are mostly in-state, they sing an average of six to eight programs a month. Made up of fifteen of the most versatile members of the Concert Choir, they put to use the hours and hours of practice to execute their renditions with professional skill. Whether for a television Christmas special, a high-school assembly, a service club, or the Jackson Carnival Ball, their energy and enthusiasm know no limits. As Mr. Leland Byler, founder and director of the group, put it, they sing for "people who want us—and who wouldn't?" Already veterans of two overseas USO tours (to the Carribean and to France and Germany), the Troubadours are getting excited now about their up-coming two-month tour of Germany and Italy this summer.

"It's just one of those songs that you hear now and then . . ."

Circle K

When the sun glares down at a football game or the action of the basketball court gets tense, head for the Circle K concession stand for a Coke! This in itself is enough to prompt a hearty round of thanks, but that isn't all—monitors and ushers at convocations were always Circle K members. Moreover, members gave their time and energy to collect contributions for the Heart Fund and Kidney Fund drives. A men's service organization, Circle K was founded in 1963 and is sponsored by the Jackson Capitol City Kiwanis Club. It proudly claims the distinction of being the only service club on the Millsaps Campus.

Circle K is in charge of refreshments at all home football games.

Christian Council

Interdenominational religious activity on campus was planned and coordinated by the Christian Council. Composed of the president and an elected representative from each group, the council sponsored communion services before Christmas and Easter. In cooperation with the W.S.G.A., the group organized the International Gift Bazaar in December.

YWCA

With a sincere interest in promoting Christian ideals and high standards, the Young Women's Christian Association held monthly meetings which featured persons from various professions and local groups. The main activity of the organization was a Big Sister-Little Sister program with girls from the Methodist Children's Home. During the year, these "little sisters" were entertained on campus at YWCA sponsored gatherings and were visited at the Home by their "BIG Sisters."

Debate Deutscher Verein

Armed with plenty of breath and opinions, the debate team hit the road for a total of eight encounters with rival teams at colleges in Mississippi, Louisiana, and Arkansas. Their spirited efforts earned them trophies at Mississippi State University, University of Arkansas, and the Mardi Gras Invitational Tournament at Tulane. Dissection of the topic, "Resolved: That executive control of United States foreign policy should be significantly curtailed," was the task of this year's team, piloted by Joey Howell and George Booth. The conclusion of the round of tournaments was a trip to the Pi Kappa Delta Nationals in Arizona.

Deutscher Verein entered into lively discussions of all facets of German and Austrian life. The meetings ranged from a German song fest to a feast of authentic German food. Programs typically featured German films and talks by students who have visited Germany. In March the Vice Consul of Press and Information of the New Orleans Affairs spoke on higher education in Germany.

MSM BSU

Wesley Fellowship, the Millsaps chapter of the Methodist Student Movement, provided challenging programs which broadened the member's ideas by relating Christian experiences with those of other college students. The group reorganized itself as one of therapy and involvement and co-operated with the Methodist Church in "Operation Shoestring."

The Baptist Student Union attempted to link Baptist students at Millsaps with their church. Programs encouraged the student to grow spiritually and to lead a more meaningful Christian life.

Ministerial League

The Ministerial League was founded for all students planning to enter the ministry. The League provided students with situations he may face in his profession by giving him practical experiences. One of the projects was to print the pocket-size schedule cards given to students during registration. In conjunction with "Operation Shoestring" the group provided a tutoring service for some of the underprivileged children of Jackson.

Honoraries

David Martin, president ODK.

Omicron Delta Kappa

Outstanding men on the Millsaps campus are recognized through ODK, a national leadership honorary. The group promotes leadership in various areas: scholarship, student government, social and religious organizations, athletics, publications, and arts. These common interests bring together members of the student body and faculty who are concerned with the betterment of the college. ODK sponsors Tap Day each semester and awards a scholarship trophy to the Greek organization having the highest average in the men's and women's divisions.

Sigma Lambda

Sigma Lambda is a women's honorary society which recognizes leadership and sponsors the best interests of college life. Membership into this organization is a distinct honor. Invitation to the group is based upon points gained through active leadership in certain campus organizations and requires the unanimous vote of the regular members. Recognizing outstanding accomplishments in scholarship, leadership, and campus activities, Sigma Lambda represents the ultimate achievement for a Millsaps woman.

Alpha Epsilon Delta: First Row: Clint Cavett, Robert Collins, Wayne Babin; Second Row: John Sutphin, Stephen Reed, Rodney Meeks; Third Row: Dr. Cain, Paul Gee, Franklin Chatham.

AED

AED is a national honor society of pre-medical students which encourages excellence in pre-medical scholarship, stimulates an appreciation of the importance of pre-med education, and strives to bridge the gap between pre-medical and medical schools. Membership in AED is based on leadership, scholarship, character, and personality.

Chi Chi Chi

Chi Chi Chi is an honorary recognizing outstanding scholarship in the study of chemistry. Throughout the year, XXX promotes the interest of chemistry students by sponsoring numerous visiting lecturers, by having monthly dinner meetings, and by providing needed assistance to the Chemistry Department.

Chi Chi Chi: James Fyte, Dr. Cain, Tommy Cabell, Gerald Harper, Frank McEachern, Paul Gee, Dr. Bishop, Clint Cavett, Franklin Chatham, Dr. Ezell.

Theta Nu Sigma

Theta Nu Sigma strives to further interest in the sciences. Through this organization there is a greater opportunity for increased fellowship among those having scientific interests. The honorary recognizes excellence in scholarship and leadership among science students and encourages students to enter graduate school. Membership is offered to those who have achieved a second semester sophomore standing and who are majoring in one of the natural or mathematical sciences.

Beta Beta Beta

Beta Beta Beta, established at Millsaps College in 1968, is a national honorary for students in the biological sciences. The purposes are to stimulate sound scholarship, to promote the dissemination of scientific truth, and to encourage investigation in the life sciences. Monthly meetings are held to discuss new ideas, research, and other material pertinent to biology and related sciences. Activities include off-campus field trips and the invitation of nationally prominent lecturers to the campus.

Sigma Delta Pi

Sigma Delta Pi, the international Spanish honorary, was established at Millsaps College on February 4, 1968. Its purpose is to recognize the outstanding achievements of Spanish students and to cultivate an interest in Spanish art and literature. To be eligible for membership a student must obtain a high overall point index with a "B" average in Spanish, and must have completed at least three college years of Spanish including a minimum of three hours in literature.

Pi Delta Phi

Pi Delta Phi, a national French fraternity promotes high scholarship and the study of France, its language and literature. To be invited into membership, a student must have at least a 3.0 average in fifteen hours of French and a 2.8 overall average. Honorary memberships are extended to alumni and faculty members.

Pi Delta Phi: Cheryl Thompson, Dianne Partridge, Diana Stokes.

Schiller Gesellschaft: Charles Clark, Debbie Nelson, Jo Ann Huttig, Steve Meeks, Mr. Clayton, Mr. Guest, Ralph Wittal.

Schiller

Schiller Gesellschaft is a German honorary recognizing outstanding students in the study of German and promoting an interest in German culture. Those invited for membership must present a research paper on some aspect of Germany's contribution to the arts or sciences.

Eta Sigma Phi

The dual purposes of Eta Sigma Phi, a national classical fraternity, are to recognize outstanding students of Greek and Latin studies and to cultivate an interest in the art and literature of ancient Greece and Rome. On the national level Eta Sigma Phi publishes The Nuntius, a quarterly magazine, and sponsors an annual national convention. Membership in Eta Sigma Phi requires first semester sophomore standing and a "B" average in the classics.

Eta Sigma Phi: First Row: Judy Hayes, Alice Rhea, Betty Toon. Second Row: Gary Stewart, Mrs. Couillet, Evelyn Snipes, Danny Blair.

Eta Sigma

Eta Sigma, a national scholastic honorary, promotes excellence in scholarship on the campus. Members are required to have completed a minimum of seventy-five semester hours with at least thirty of them acquired at Millsaps. Juniors must have an over-all index of 3.60 and seniors an index of 3.55.

Chi Delta: Miss Morehead, Jacque Armstrong, Mrs. Dean, Mrs. Blackwell, Dr. Callen, Linda Townes, Mrs. Collins, Cheryl Thompson.

Kit Kat, Chi Delta

Kit Kat is the oldest and most exclusive honorary on the Millsaps campus. Fashioned after the famed literary circles of eighteenth century London coffee houses, meetings are held to promote interest in creative writing. Members of Kit Kat demonstrate their abilities in every campus publication and encourage gifted writers to follow their efforts.

Sister organization to Kit Kat, Chi Delta seeks to promote interest in creative writing among Millsaps women. Each member has made achievements in the literary field. Membership includes those whose works have been published in the Stylus or entered into the Southern Literary Festival.

Alpha Psi Omega

Membership in Alpha Psi Omega, a national honorary dramatics fraternity, is earned through active participation in the Millsaps Players. This may take the form of acting, directing, make-up, stage management, business management, costuming, lighting, or publicity. The presentation of Most Outstanding Millsaps Player, Millsaps Player Acting Award, Junior Acting Awards, Most Valuable Freshman, and Backstage Award are made at the annual Players' Awards Banquet.

Pi Kappa Delta

Distinguished performance in oratory and extemporaneous public speaking is rewarded through membership into Pi Kappa Delta. Each year the group assumes the responsibility of sponsoring the Millsaps Invitational Debate Tournament.

Gamma Gamma

Since 1965, when it was established on the Millsaps campus, Gamma Gamma has sought to improve relations among the fraternal organizations and also between the fraternal system and the entire college community. Membership into this honorary is extended to those who have contributed meritorious service to the Greek system and to the college.

KDE

Kappa Delta Epsilon, a professional education honorary, fosters high academic standing and professional ideals in those preparing for a teaching career. Kappa Delta Epsilon is an active honorary, holding monthly meetings and sponsoring various activities throughout the year including a Christmas Party at the Old Ladies' Home and an annual party with the student and supervising teachers. To be eligible for membership a woman student must be an education major maintaining a 2.7 overall index and having completed six hours of secondary education or nine hours of elementary education.

History Honorary

The History Honorary was founded at the beginning of the 1968 school year at Millsaps by a group of history majors interested in providing a club for qualified students who are interested in meeting and discussing events and problems in the history of the world. Each semester there are three meetings held for the presentation of papers or programs. The local group has petitioned Phi Alpha Theta, a national history honorary, for affiliation.

Panhellenic Council: Ruth Maret, Jeanne Terpstra, Jeannie Gouras, Debbie Williams, Caroline Massey, Lolly Flett, Susan Bartling, Susan Kunzelman, Kathy Murray.

Panhellenic Council

Millsaps Panhellenic Council is set up to further the relations between the four Greek societies for women on campus and to serve as a liaison between the women and the college administration. Made up of the president and two representatives from each group, Panhellenic's main duty is to regulate rules concerning rushing and to supervise all activities of Rush Week and pledging. The Inter-Fraternity Council joins Panhellenic in sponsoring the Greek Night Dance on the day bids are issued, and both groups help in the procedures of Greek Week.

Established this year was a body known as Junior Panhellenic. It is made up of a representative from each of the pledge classes and is presided over by a member of the senior council. They served to evaluate rush and to gain experience in the working of Panhellenic so that they could represent their respective groups when they become upper classmen.

Dean Glenn Pate serves as advisor to the Panhellenic Council. Officers for 1968-1969 were Maggie Watkins, Chi Omega, president; Irene Cajoleas, Kappa Delta, vice president; Susan Kunzelman, Zeta Tau Alpha, secretary; and Caroline Massey, Phi Mu, treasurer.

Inter-Fraternity Council

Governing the affairs of Millsaps' four fraternities is the Inter-Fraternity Council. Three representatives from each group work with the administration and faculty to help the fraternity system as it operates on the Millsaps campus. The members of the I.F.C. try to promote a spirit of cooperation and brotherhood among the fraternities and maintain high standards for all fraternity men.

I.F.C. sets up the schedule for men's rush each semester and makes rules concerning rushing practices. They also help the community through service projects, especially in association with the Panhellenic Council during Greek Week.

Presiding as president during the 1968-1969 term was Johnny Durrett, Kappa Alpha Order; vice president was Kenneth Humphries, Kappa Sigma; secretary was Nick Sabatini, Lambda Chi Alpha; and serving as treasurer was Bobby Moore, Pi Kappa Alpha.

Majors end season with 6-3 record

With six wins the Millsaps Majors compiled the best record in more than a decade, and they showed tremendous potential for the next few years. The Majors wound up the season with three road games. A game at Maryville ended in a 17-13 upset over Millsaps, the first loss since the game at Sewanee. Georgetown fell to a thundering Major offense 33-7. In this game the Majors racked up 400 yards for the second time in the season. Finally, Randolph-Macon handed the Majors their third loss 35-12 in the closing game of the year. Again the statistics favored the Majors as they racked up 400 yards for the second time in a row and over 20 first downs for the third time. The key to the game lay in the discouraging fact that Major drives stalled within the 15-yard marker four times.

Brett Adams and Robby McLeod provided some tremendous running for the Majors. Adams piled up over 875 yards on the ground in spite of a late season injury. McLeod consistently made very tough yardage up the middle. He ran for a total of 574 yards. In total scoring and offense, Adams compiled 66 points and 1007 yards and McLeod massed 30 points and 574 yards. Together these two counted for well over half of the total yardage for the whole team.

Major defense also proved to be a very tough unit. A total of 22 passes was picked off with two being returned for touchdowns. Too, the combined work of Al Gary, Leon Bailey, Bill Campbell, and Pat Amos netted the Majors with 12 recoveries and interceptions.

With the loss of only six seniors and the return of so many of the starters, including quarterback Mike Taylor, and numerous freshman lettermen, the 1969 season appears to be even better than this one.

Majors Win Opener

The Millsaps Majors stunned Henderson State College from Arkansas by beating them 22-14 in the season opener. Millsaps was down 14-7 going into the fourth quarter, but racked up 15 points in the final period to upset the tough Reddies.

The key play of the game was a halfback option pass from tailback Brett Adams to split end Jeff Smith for 80 yards and brought the crowd to their feet by scoring with eleven minutes still remaining. A few seconds later, defensive end Pete Allison put the Majors ahead as he blocked a punt in the end zone for a two point safety. Brett Adams put a final touchdown on the board with a 1-yard plunge later.

Harding Meets Defeat

Following a 16-0 pounding by Sewanee, the Majors hosted another of the rugged Arkansas teams, Harding College. This game ended in a 21-6 victory for Millsaps. Bill Campbell put in a good afternoon's work as he intercepted one pass and recovered two fumbles to stop Bison drives and set up Major scores. Touchdowns came on a pass from quarterback Mike Taylor to split end Ronnie Grantham and two plunges from fullback Robbie McLeod. Buddy Bartling made all three conversions.

Northwood Falls 45-7

In the fourth game of the season, the Major's offense exploded in a 45-7 smashing of the Northwood Cavaliers. Scoring honors were split evenly between Brett Adams and the defense. Adams picked up two touchdowns and led the team in rushing. Linebacker David Martin scored his first touchdown by recovering a Cavalier fumble in the end zone. In addition, Leon Bailey got his third and fourth interceptions of the year to establish a lead in that department; he returned one of them 21 yards for a TD.

Fullback Robby McLeod got his fourth touchdown of the season. This game also allowed several freshman hopefuls a chance at game action.

Mike Taylor goes for a long gain.

Majors Fall to Ouachita

The Major's four game winning streak snapped abruptly as they lost their final home game of the season to Ouachita Baptist University 24-10.

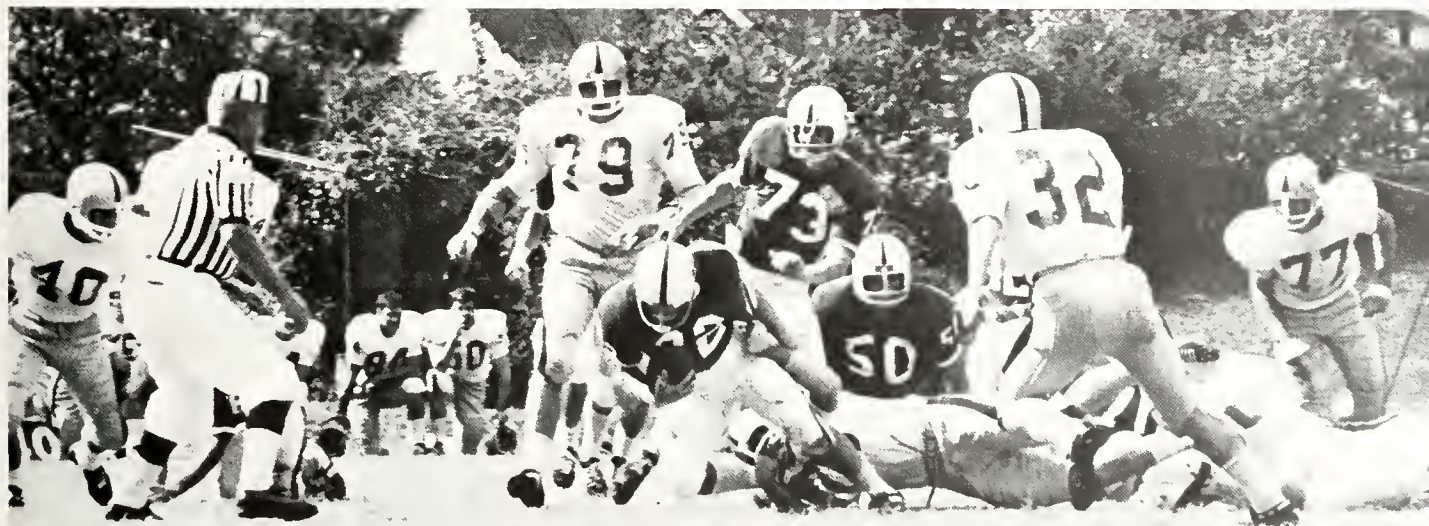

Brett Adams was the only Major to get in for a touch-down to go along with a 100-yard total for the day. Buddy Bartling made the other four points with a field goal and one conversion. In spite of the score the Majors refused to quit as Al Gary intercepted two passes along with a good defensive effort. The offense just didn't quite gel.

Millsaps Wins Homecoming Clash

Still riding the wave of an effective offense, the Majors humiliated Southwestern 61-8 for a great treat to returning alumni. This victory avenged the bitter defeat of the previous year in Memphis.

Brett Adams was again the Majors big gun as he scored three touchdowns of his own and passed for a fourth to split end Ronnie Grantham. Adams also had his second 100-yard game of the year. Pat Amos as both linebacker and fullback scored on a 17-yard run following his first pass interception and again on a play from offense.

Freshmen also showed good signs with a TD by tailback Mike Sanders on a pitchout from Bill Johnson. Later Johnson scored on a pitchout from Sanders.

Sophomore Buddy Bartling booted a 17-yard field goal and 7 of 8 conversion attempts.

New Coach Builds Esprit de Corps

Millsaps Majors entered the 1968-1969 basketball season with a revamped program. Coach J. C. Anthony arrived from Southwestern to guide Millsaps toward its destiny of excellence in basketball, bringing with him a load of talented junior college stars and high school standouts. In addition, he brought abundant enthusiasm and a talent for recruiting. Both promised to give the Majors a new look in the next few seasons.

Majors Defeat Texans

In the pre-Christmas part of the season, the Majors faced a frantic schedule with eight games, including six on the road, crammed into the space of seventeen days. After losing their first four games, the Majors took to the road for Dallas, Texas, and their first two victories of the year. In a Friday-Saturday night arrangement, Millsaps beat Northwood and Austin on December 13 and 14. A week later the Majors went home for Christmas, much encouraged with the victories.

Inspired team Faces Tough Opponents

The Inter-denominational Tournament on January 9 and 10 provided the setting for two of the Majors' finest games of the year, even though both ended in defeat. On the 9th, the Majors took on undefeated William Carey and led most of the game, only to fall by two points. The following night they played the Choctaws in the consolation game and lost by seven points after leading at the intermission. Tom Schulte scored 52 points in the two nights, a performance which earned for him a spot on the All-Tourney team.

Looks For Retaliation

Inspired by their performance in the Inter-denominational Tournament, the Majors hosted Birmingham-Southern three days later and defeated them by ten points to avenge an earlier defeat at their hands. Bill Beckman scored 27 points in the Millsaps victory. Two days later, the Majors hosted a superb Lynx team from Southwestern and went down by 13 points. With half of the season gone, the Majors took a break for semester exams.

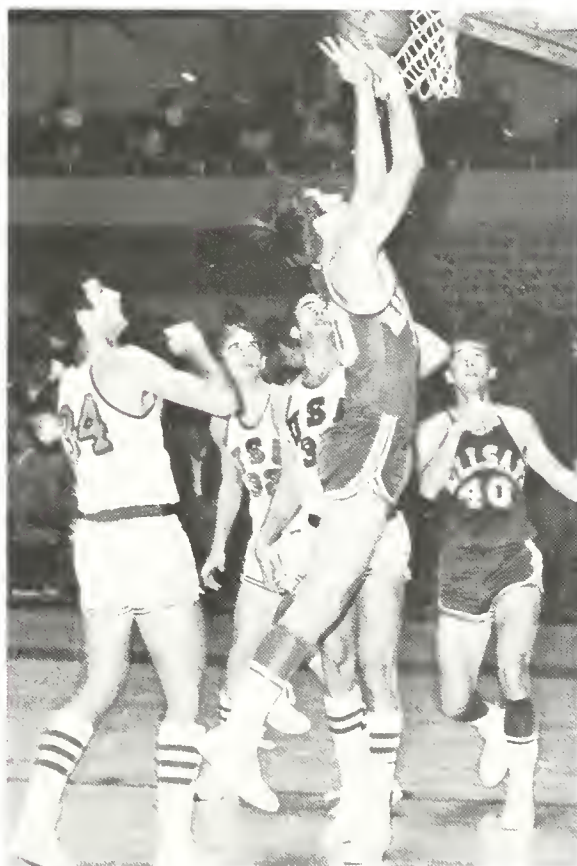

Returning from a two-day trip to Lambuth College, the Majors faced two tough teams on Friday and Saturday nights in Baptist Christian College and Willaim Carey College. Clint McInnis ignited the Majors against BBC with 34 points; and they roared back from a slight deficit to overcome the Cavaliers for their fourth victory of the year. Worn out from their great effort of the previous night, the Majors were unable to maintain momentum against the William Carey Crusaders and lost.

Baseball

Looking forward to a 25-game schedule for the 1969 season, Coach Tommy Ranager and the Majors began their preparation the first week of March. The squad of seventeen, including nine returning lettermen, made prospects for a successful season seem bright. The mound corps, led by such hurlers as Mike O'Brien, Joe Pat Quinn, and Langford Knight, found extra strength in the throwing abilities of freshmen Bill Beckman and Richard Newman.

Soccer

A relatively new sport at Millsaps, soccer has really caught on in the past few years. The game has gained in popularity with all the fraternities. Through the efforts of the Intramural Council, the game has been made safer with the purchase of protective equipment. The competition this year was tough with each fraternity presenting an extremely skilled team. Each game drew a good crowd of spectators and proved to be an inspiring experience for those who attended. The close of the season proved to be a triumph for Kappa Sigma.

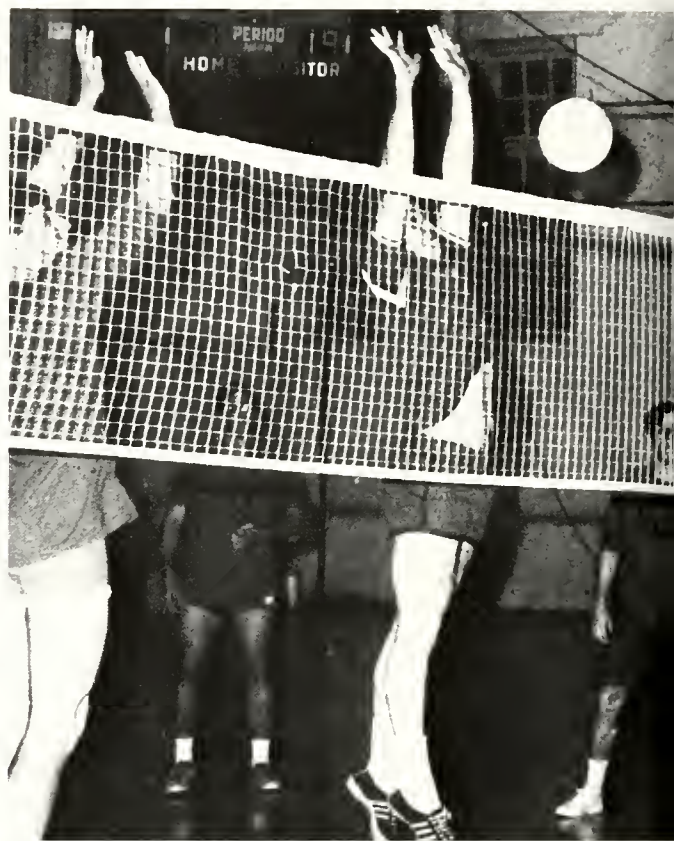

The many faces of soccer??

Volleyball

Although not as popular as Basketball and Soccer, Volleyball attracted many participants and spectators this year. Due to the returning starters on most teams the competition was hot and heavy. Every team member put forth all of his effort and their reward was the satisfaction of good, spirited competition. This year in order to speed up the season, several games were played at one time, which was an exciting innovation. Through many strenuous practice sessions the Lambda Chi's came out on top by defeating the KA's in a close final game.

Basketball

This year the basketball season brought with it the normal intra-fraternity rivalries and the usually tough contests. Through numerous practice sessions each team improved as the season progressed and the competition became more heated. Each team put nothing less than the best onto the court. Consequently the scores ran high and the margin of win was usually small. Student support was extremely good for the year and the spectators were always rewarded for their attendance. The KA's took off the honors this year with an exciting undefeated season ending with a tension-sparked game against the M-Club.

Sports for Women

Women's Intramurals at Millsaps provides friendly competition for the participating groups and entertainment for the spectators. During volleyball and basketball, Buie Gym echoed with the sounds of sorority songs and yelling cheers to the players for victory. In the spring, half of the football field was transformed into a softball field where the coeds tried their luck with the ball and bat. Intramurals cater not only to team sports, but to the individual sports such as tennis, badminton, and golf. The Kappa Deltas were undefeated in volleyball and appeared to have won tennis with all the finalists belonging to this group. In the spring an overall intramural trophy was awarded to the group accumulating the most points during the year.
